someone we would never have thought of as committing a crime, is now doing serious crimes.

there is evidence that patients with secundum asds are at elevated risk of bacterial endocarditis